REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. Claims 1-11 are allowed over the prior art of record.
2. The present invention is directed to a facsimile apparatus. Each independent claim identifies the uniquely distinct features "a controller configured to cause to be stored in the destination information memory reception capacity information contained "n a delivery confirmation mail or other mail received from the selected transmission destination I response to the delivery confirmation request, as the reception capacity information of the selected transmission destination if the delivery mail or other mail received from the selected transmission destination includes the reception capacity information; and if the delivery confirmation mail or the other received mail from the selected transmission destination does not include the reception capacity information but confirms that the facsimile transmission to the selected transmission destination has been properly completed, cause to be stored in the destination information memory the transmission mode information, already stored in the transmission mode memory, indicating the transmission mode used for the facsimile transmission to the selected transmission destination as a transmission enabling mode of the selected transmission destination."

The closest prior art, Kawabata (US 2004/0057568) in view of Tanimoto (US Patent 7,142,320) teach a facsimile machine within in controlled network that uses received information from a destination to process electronic information. Tanimoto teaches receiving receiving ability information from the destination device, but does not directly teach operable conditions on whether or not receiving ability information is received form the destination device.

Art Unit: 2625

Therefore, either singularly or in combination no combination, the closest prior art fails to anticipate or render the above underlined limitation above.

3. Claims 2-3, 5-6 and 8-11 are allowable for being dependent on an allowable base claim.

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
